

"Litcy Kurisinkal is a Human Rights Research Consultant. She was a core leadership team member of South Asians for Biden, Illinois Women for Biden and Women of Color for Biden during the 2020 Presidential Election campaign. She actively worked towards grassroots mobilization of voters in Pennsylvania and Senate race in Georgia. She served as the External Research Support for the UN Special Rapporteur on Sale and Sexual Exploitation of Children. She has worked on a range of human rights issues like civil and political rights, children's rights, labor rights, migrant rights, health rights and protection of street children. She has worked with international organizations such as SEIU-UNI Global on labor rights, CARAM Asia – UNDP projects on migrant laborers and Health rights, Clean Clothes Campaign, Catholic Relief Services in Benin (Africa), International Labor Organization (ILO) and Nobel Laureate Kailash Satyarthi's Global March against Child Labor in India.

Currently, she is the Board Member of Harvard Women in Defense, Diplomacy and Development (W3D), President of Alumnae-i Network for Harvard Women (ANHW) Chicago Chapter and City Ambassador of Harvard Kennedy School Women's Network. Litcy Kurisinkal has a Masters degree in Mathematics. She was a Cambridge Commonwealth Scholar at the University of Cambridge, UK. She is a Public Policy graduate from Harvard Kennedy School, Harvard University. She was awarded with the Carr Center for Human Rights Policy Paper Prize in 2013 from Harvard Kennedy School. "